Issued by: Pacific Asian Consortium in Employment (PACE)

Location: Pico Union/Westlake Region

Release Date: March 3, 2026

Grant Period: July 1, 2026 – June 30, 2027

Proposal Deadline: March 6, 2026, no later than 5:00:00 p.m. PST

Program Overview

PACE (Pacific Asian Consortium in Employment) is applying to serve as a Los Angeles BusinessSource Center (LABSC) Operator. If awarded, PACE will subcontract with qualified organizations to expand outreach, technical assistance, and business support services citywide. The LABSC program supports small business growth and economic development with a central goal of creating and retaining jobs for low- to moderate-income individuals, providing counseling, training, access to capital, and industry-specific support.

Since its implementation, LABSC has enrolled thousands of clients, delivered tens of thousands of trainings, facilitated access to millions in capital, launched new businesses, and created or retained hundreds of local jobs. The program strengthens business resiliency, helping businesses withstand economic challenges, natural disasters, and market disruptions while preparing for major events such as the LA '28 Summer Olympics and 2026 World Cup in Los Angeles.

If selected as a LABSC Operator, PACE will work closely with subcontractors to provide services citywide, with an emphasis on neighborhoods with high concentrations of low- to moderate-income residents. Subcontracted organizations will deliver tailored resources, including business counseling, workshops, access to capital, and industry-specific technical assistance, helping ensure small businesses have the support necessary to grow, adapt, and thrive.

Key Objectives of the LABSC Program

1. Promote the creation and retention of jobs for low- to moderate-income individuals.
2. Provide business technical assistance, training, and access to capital to support business growth.
3. Enhance the resiliency and adaptability of small businesses to respond to economic, environmental, and industry-specific challenges.
4. Build a coordinated business support ecosystem through partnerships with public and private sector stakeholders.

Core Services Include

- One-on-one business counseling and mentoring
- Business plan development and financial planning
- Access to capital and loan management support
- Workshops and group training on business management, financial literacy, and market expansion
- Specialized resources for high-growth industries such as healthcare, biotech, renewable energy, construction, logistics, and entertainment

Purpose of RFQ

PACE seeks to subcontract with one (1) qualified small business consulting firm to provide individualized technical assistance and facilitate access to capital for small businesses, with the goal of creating and / or retaining jobs, and achieving performance-based outcomes under the LABSC Program. Anticipated award size is up to $20,000. Services are anticipated to begin as early as July 1, 2026, and will continue through June 30, 2027.

This solicitation is consistent with City of Los Angeles procurement procedures under Appendix C - <https://www.rampla.org/s/opportunity-details?id=006QL00000WSPHBIA5>.
